

Billboard Magazine, November 26, 1927, p. 63, social column, "The Corral."

"Col. Victor F. Cody (Ponca Bill), May and Jack Cody re back home in Table Rock, Neb., for the winter after a pleasant season with Robbins Bros. Circus."

Who is Jack????

DAKOTA MAX advises that he will attend the Showmen's League Banquet and Ball in Chicago.

BYRON ROACH'S horse ranch at Baldwin, Okla., is one of the interesting spots that Byron is proud of.

JONNIE MULLENS and wife, after a pleasant visit in New York, following the World Series Rodeo, have returned to Montana.

BEN DAVIESON'S crew of program men at the recent Horse Show in Madison Square Garden, New York, included Jack Rice, Joe Baker and wife.

COL. VICTOR F. CODY (Ponca Bill), May and Jack Cody are back home in Table Rock, Neb., for the winter after a pleasant season with Robbins Bros. Circus.

FRED BEEBE'S string of bucking horses made a good impression at the recent World Series Rodeo in New York. They were shipped back to Beebe's ranch in Kansas.

THE AMERICAN COWBOY knows his stars. Earl Hornbrook is having a gay mas, the cowboy crown, put on their attire show for the benefit of the war veterans. The Stroud stock of horses, steers, calves and mules were shipped here from Rocky Ford, accompanied by the entire personnel of cowboys and cowgirls. Stroud paid all expenses connected with the show.

LAKEVIEW, Ore.—Lorena Trickey, rodeo cowgirl, was found not guilty by a jury which tried her on a charge of killing J. P. (Smiling Slim) Harris, rodeo star. Miss Trickey, who said she was the common-law wife of Harris, pleaded self-defense, saying she stabbed him when he attacked her. The jury was out 20 minutes. A wild demonstration followed announcement of the verdict.

PINKY GIST writes from Chandler, Ariz.: "They are going to have a one-day calf roping here November 20. I have clowned the following rodeos and roundups this season: Phoenix, Ariz.; Columbus, O.; Buffalo, Bellefourche, Cheyenne, Sun City and Mayetta, Kan.; Sumas and Ellensburg, Wash.; Pendleton, Weisner, Id., and Las Vegas, Nev. I have contracted with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Phoenix, Ariz., to clown the Mid-Winter Rodeo, which will be held to roping and tried her luck as a professional roper. Since then she has worked hard at rope twirling and all last winter spent between five and six hours a day trying new twists and new tricks. The work brought its reward, for she now is able to spin a 40-foot rope and do the cart-wheel run. Pearl appeared in Cheyenne and Bellefourche, where she was featured before President Coolidge and his party and won the presidential applause. Before that she had shown the governor of Ohio a thing or two about roping and about the home life of a roper. It seems that the governor happened around the Gist cook wagon at meal time when the roper was busy with flapjacks and coffee and bacon; that the governor forgot all about ropes when the aroma of cooking reached him, sat down and partook. Thereafter he was unable to compliment Pearl as a roper because he was too busy complimenting her as a cook. Pearl is spending her vacation in Pasadena, Calif., training hard, and will have some "good new ones" in trick roping for next year, she advises The Corral.

SAN ANTONIO, long the home of the cowmen and ranch owners, has had its first rodeo and Wild West show of mac-